

An Exciting Chance to See IJM's Work in Manila with WOAM

15-18 January 2020

Ever wondered how an anti-trafficking organization helps protect the most vulnerable populations? This is your chance to find out. Join us as we partner with Women on a Mission (WOAM), and bring our friends and supporters to the front lines in Manila, Philippines. We'll show you how International Justice Mission (IJM) is supporting public justice systems to protect the poor from violence. It's a unique experience guaranteed to change your perspective. Come and meet local power actors on the frontlines of this fight. Please join us!

ON THIS TRIP, YOU'LL:

LEARN about IJM's innovative initiatives that are proving that justice for the poor is possible

CONNECT with IJM's local NGO partners and aftercare providers and see how they're transforming lives

EXPERIENCE the Filipino culture by taking in breathtaking historic sights and tasting the local cuisine

ENCOURAGE IJM's local field leadership and staff to continue their life-saving work

Why Manila? IJM is at the forefront of the fight against cybersex trafficking, an issue plaguing the Philippines. WOAM is calling on our network to raise awareness of this issue and use our platforms to speak on behalf of the children still suffering.

IJM/WOAM Trip

WOAM is a non-profit organisation, headquartered in Singapore, which aims to support and empower women and girls who have been subjected to violence and abuse. Our trips and expeditions – self-funded by each participant – are at the very core of WOAM’s fundraising campaigns. We are thrilled to be partnering with IJM Philippines to learn more about their work combating cybersex trafficking across the country, and look forward to meeting all of the female power actors at the heart of fighting this injustice.

As part of WOAM’s mission to “challenge ourselves to empower women”, this trip will incorporate a half-day hike around Lake Pinatubo, a gorgeous crater lake formed after its climactic eruption in 1991. The 5.5km hike will be filled with fun and fellowship with IJM staff and WOAM trip participants, and provide a refreshing contrast to the busyness of Manila.
